

CARE...without barriers

2009 OFFER TO HEALTHCARE ASSOCIATIONS

aiaTranslations is a global leader in life sciences and healthcare-related translation. With a team of linguists specializing in medical communications, we are extending a special offer in order to support cross-cultural and multilingual healthcare outreach and educational programs.

All healthcare associations that use our services in 2009 for patient education initiatives will receive a 25% discount on our rates. This is your opportunity to receive professional language services at a highly-discounted rate.

REMOVING THE LANGUAGE BARRIERS IN HEALTH EDUCATION

Increasingly healthcare professionals are providing care to the diverse populations in the United States and throughout the world. Studies have shown that non-native English speakers are unable to receive the care they need on a consistent basis. The ability to provide patient information in multiple languages enhances a caregiver's ability to truly affect their community. » aiaTranslations is dedicated itself to continued efforts in 2009 to provide expanded access to information and educational programs. By offering our high quality services to organizations, we hope to encourage continued outreach that eliminates language driven barriers to understanding and access.
